

Renard International

Transitory Short-Term Senior Executive Hires

Renard International celebrates 49 years in the Hospitality recruitment business and we know that "People" are your most valuable asset! Not every recruitment company has the facility to connect with global hotel organizations at every level. At Renard International this is exactly what we do on a daily basis. We provide people and services for the hospitality industry for every level and any length of time (short term contracts or permanent roles).

Hospitality Executives Temporarily Yours

Do you need Temporary Executive Hires (Contractors)?

Renard International has started a new initiative. As we know, there are many highly qualified and experienced individuals between jobs. This may be due to many, many valid reasons. Yet, these individuals have a lot to offer our industry and would be a great asset to your organization on a short-term basis. This would be a win/win for you or them while they seek permanent employment. In other words, should you need assistance with an "opening", reorganization, implementation of new kitchen design, refurbishments, new IT systems or even filling in for an individual who may be off with an illness, maternity leave or just waiting for the right candidate to join your company, we have the answer.

Renard would be happy to provide experienced professionals for your company for up to 6 months at no cost whatsoever to you. We believe that this is a beneficial service we offer to all hospitality professionals and the industry. We do hope you will contact us should you need any assistance in this regard.

Are you looking for a Temporary Assignment (Contract)?

If you are between jobs and actively looking for new opportunities and are prepared to work for up to 6 months or longer in a contract position, then we have some interesting assignments/contracts globally for you. Each contract would be with a reputable company which would hire you for up to 6 months or longer if required. They would provide a work visa if needed, transportation and housing or a housing allowance and a fair remuneration.

Renard International will not receive any fee from the company or yourself for this service! We will prepare and organize your contract and see that it is signed between yourself and the company. We will bill this client monthly and pay you by wire transfer; with no tax deduction anywhere in the World. We retain only an administrative fee. If there is any interest in being one of our short term contractors, please contact us.
